Join us for a magical day in Boston! The day will start with a little free time for lunch and maybe some last minute holiday gifts in Boston. Next, we head to the Wang Theatre to discover what happens before Santa drops in at Cirque du Soleil's 'Twas the Night Before...' This is an exhilarating spin on the beloved Christmas tale, and Cirque du Soleil's first ever Christmas production in New England. This festive show brings a flurry of love, Christmas cheer, thrilling acrobatics, and lovable characters that will create a new holiday tradition for families to cherish. Join a teenage girl jaded by the craziness surrounding Christmas, as she is whisked away to an upside-down, inside-out world where she meets colorful characters from the classic poem. On the night before Christmas her father reads the iconic poem to his daughter Isabella, but she feels she has outgrown this tradition until the magic of the poem comes to life. A snow storm unexpectedly separates the pair and sends them into a fantastical journey, a winter wonderland where the magic of the poem appears as a spark of light that flashes between reindeer, acrobats, and children, reuniting young Isabella with her dad and the spirit of Christmas. This show with an ensemble of performers from all over the world is not to be missed!

We can't wait to experience the magic of this show with you!
